

Joseph Gaspero
Chubb

Joe Gaspero is a 15 year insurance professional spending all of that time based in the Philadelphia and New York regions while primarily managing excess casualty business. Joe values the underwriting craft and has completed his CPCU, RPLU, ARe, ARM, and AIC professional designations to date. He graduated from the Risk Management & Insurance program at Temple University in 2009.

After school, Joe started his career at Conner Strong & Buckelew in Philadelphia placing all lines of business for their commercial clients. In 2013, after 4 years as a broker, Joe joined ACE producing middle market excess casualty business in the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh markets.

Over the past 10 years at Chubb, previously ACE, Joe has had many roles in the Major Account space managing the largest and most complex excess casualty programs in the industry. Currently, Joe is an SVP, East Zone Leader, at Chubb responsible for all Major Account Excess Casualty business in the Northeast, New York, Mid-Atlantic, and Southeast regions. Joe resides in the Philadelphia suburbs with his wife, son, and two dogs, has a love/hate relationship with DIY projects and enjoys golf when his schedule permits.