

Katherine Vaux
Assistant Vice President
Arch Insurance

Katherine Vaux is an Assistant Vice President in Arch Insurance's Large Accounts Casualty division, where she specializes in underwriting and managing complex casualty risks for large commercial organizations. She partners closely with brokers and risk management professionals to evaluate exposures, structure casualty programs, and develop tailored solutions that address the evolving needs of sophisticated insureds.

With more than 10 years of experience in commercial casualty underwriting, Katherine has worked across a diverse range of industries, helping clients navigate emerging liability challenges, contractual risk transfer requirements, and changing market conditions. She is recognized for her collaborative approach, strong broker and client relationships, and commitment to delivering thoughtful risk management solutions that support her clients' business objectives.